CLASSICS (CLAS)

Graduate Degree Program
College: Arts and Humanities

Abstract
The Department of Classics offers a graduate program of study with specializations in Latin or Latin and Greek, leading to the Master of Arts degree. The program provides students with advanced study of the Latin and/or Greek languages and literatures in the context of a broader and deeper knowledge and understanding of Greek and Roman culture and civilization. In addition to advanced courses in language, each student will be required to take coursework in related disciplines outside of the Classics Department. Some individual programs may require more than 30 hours. Students may choose one of two tracks toward the degree: Latin or Latin and Greek.

Financial Assistance
Teaching assistantships and several categories of fellowships are available for outstanding applicants. Contact the graduate director or the department chair for details.
