JOURNALISM STUDIES (JOST)
Graduate Degree Program
College: Journalism

abstract
Maryland's elite Ph.D. in Journalism Studies (http://merrill.umd.edu/academics/phd-program/) prepares scholars for next-generation research in the key issues confronting journalism in the 21st century.

• The program features small classes and a high level of collaboration with professors (http://merrill.umd.edu/academics/phd-program/phd-faculty/). Work focuses on the analysis of journalism practice and ethics, media history, gender and media, international media, as well as in emerging technology and the audience.

• With an emphasis on helping journalists translate career experience into research expertise, the program is highly successful (http://merrill.umd.edu/academics/phd-program/phd-positions/) at placing its doctoral graduates into teaching and research posts in higher education.

If you are seeking a master's degree to provide you with the fundamentals of journalism for a professional career, please see the Journalism (JOMJ) (https://academiccatalog.umd.edu/graduate/programs/journalism-jomj/) degree. If you are an experienced journalist looking for a research-focused master's degree, go to Journalism (JOUR) (https://academiccatalog.umd.edu/graduate/programs/journalism-jour/); If you're seeking a graduate journalism multimedia certificate, go to Multimedia Journalism (Z071) (https://academiccatalog.umd.edu/graduate/programs/multimedia-journalism-z071/).
