

SCHOOL SYSTEM LEADERSHIP (EDUC)

Graduate Degree Program
College: Education

Abstract

The Doctorate of Education (Ed.D.) in School System Leadership is a “Practice Based” doctoral program designed to develop leaders who can develop and lead collaborative and inclusive system improvement initiatives.

The program enrolls cohorts of students who work together over 36 months to identify, investigate and solve real school system problems. The Ed.D. in School System Leadership is approved by the Maryland State Department of Education for Superintendent II certification.

CONTACT

Dr. Margaret McLaughlin
Program Director
Email: mjm@umd.edu

LaTrina Graves
Program Coordinator
Email: lgraves2@umd.edu

Website: <https://education.umd.edu/academics/programs/graduate/education-school-system-leadership-edd> (<https://education.umd.edu/academics/programs/graduate/education-school-system-leadership-edd/>)

Courses: EDUC (<https://academiccatalog.umd.edu/graduate/courses/educ/>)

Admissions

This is a closed-cohort program. For more information, please visit the program website (<https://education.umd.edu/academics/programs/graduate/education-school-system-leadership-edd/>).

Requirements

- School System Leadership, Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) (<https://academiccatalog.umd.edu/graduate/programs/school-system-leadership-educ/school-system-leadership-edd/>)