The Off-Campus Housing Services Office provides information and resources about housing and off-campus living. Resources available online include a searchable web-based housing database listing available rental properties in the area; a roommate finder database where students create a profile and search for others with similar housing needs and interests; as well as an extensive array of educational materials. For assistance in locating housing, please visit och.umd.edu (http://och.umd.edu) or contact our office.