Undergraduates from across campus with an interest in real estate can now complete a minor in real estate development. The minor will provide students with a basic understanding of the essential concepts related to sustainable real estate development. Classes cover the development process; the basics of real estate finance, tax and investment; urban planning and design; and the unique roles played by government and the private sector in real estate development, among others.

Admissions Requirements
This minor is available to all Maryland undergraduate students with a GPA of 2.0 or higher who have completed ARCH271/RDEV250 with a "C-" or better.

Application Process
Interested students must complete an application and meet with the a Real Estate Development minor advisor. See: http://www.arch.umd.edu/arch/minors-arch (http://www.arch.umd.edu/arch/minors-arch/) for the online application and a scheduling app to make an appointment.

Requirements
The Minor in Real Estate Development consists of 15 credit hours. Students must complete all the required courses with a grade of "C-" or better and have a minimum UMD GPA of 2.0 for the minor.
