The School of Music is located in the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, a 318,000 square foot campus facility dedicated to Music, Theatre, Dance and Performance Studies. Completed in 2001, the Center includes six state-of-the-art performance venues, the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library, and specialized classroom and rehearsal spaces.

The objectives of the School of Music are:

1. to provide professional musical training based on a foundation in the liberal arts;
2. to help the general student develop sound critical judgment and discriminating taste in the performance and literature of music;
3. to prepare the student for graduate work in the field; and
4. to prepare the student to teach music in the public schools.

Scholarships and Financial Assistance

The School of Music offers merit-based scholarships upon a student’s acceptance into the School. Scholarships are based on the quality of the application, which includes the audition.

The Office of Student Financial Aid (OSFA) administers all types of federal, state, and institutional financial assistance programs and, in cooperation with other university offices, participates in the awarding of scholarships to deserving students. For information, visit: www.financialaid.umd.edu.

Awards and Recognition

The Presser Award is granted each May to a music student with junior standing who demonstrates both performance and scholastic excellence, as determined by the music faculty, and carries with it a significant financial award to help the recipient in his/her senior year.
