Civil and environmental engineers are problem solvers, innovators, and global leaders. Their work is all around you—the buildings we live in, the roads we travel on, the systems that treat our water, the pollution controls that protect our health, and the strategies that help us plan and recover from disasters. Stronger global communities, economies, and ecosystems depend on dedicated civil and environmental engineers.

Advising

All Civil and Environmental Engineering majors are advised by the following department faculty and staff:

1. Dr. Dimitrios Goulias, Director Undergraduate Program, 0147A Glenn L. Martin Hall, dgoulias@umd.edu, 301-405-2624.
2. Alan Santos, Director of Undergraduate Student Services, 0147C, Glenn L. Martin Hall, asantos@umd.edu, 301-405-1977.
3. Dr. Isabella Cooper, Academic Advisor, 0147E, Glenn L. Martin Hall, icooper@umd.edu, 301-405-0431.

Opportunities

Undergraduate Research Experiences

Department faculty frequently have research opportunities for undergraduate students. Students are encouraged to contact faculty members whose research specialties are of interest. For further information, students are encouraged to contact the Department’s advising staff (https://cee.umd.edu/undergraduate/current-students/advising-support/).

Internships

Career fairs are organized regularly throughout the academic year by the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) (http://www.ascemaryland.org/) and the Chi Epsilon student chapters, and the Engineering Career Services Office (https://eng.umd.edu/careers/).
