

DISABILITY STUDIES MINOR

Program Director: Carolyn M. Fink, Ph.D.

The Disability Studies minor enhances student understanding and inquiry for an evolving, inclusive, interconnected world by reframing disability as a social construct that exists along a continuum of human diversity.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Increase cultural competency by critically examining disability as a global societal phenomenon.
2. Acquire an awareness and understanding of the various roles and rights of disability in history and in modern society.
3. Explore the Disability Studies' framework within their field of study and intended profession to enhance advocacy, inclusive best practices, and their role as a change agent.
4. Examine ways in which systems inhibit and promote full participation of people with disabilities.
5. Develop analytical and observation skills and apply inclusive disability frameworks to academic, professional, and personal lives.
